I am honored to be speaking with you today. Spirit through dowsing selected our speakers for this event, so I followed suit and consulted Spirit via dowsing to determine our subject material. I usually talk about human health issues in my work as a medical intuitive, but I have been directed to share some concepts and tools with you today regarding Earth Healing.

I'm going to set up a protective geometry now, well-staffed with specific Spiritual and Divine Beings. I'm not going into any more detail today on this protection, but you are welcome to take your pendulums out and dowse the frequencies I invite in. (See Resource #2 for where to find more info on this step.)

The first concept I want to share with you today is the difference between Mental Dowsing and Vibrational Dowsing.

Mental Dowsing is what most of us, including myself, do as dowsers. We connect with someone or something and ask questions, getting a yes or no response on the pendulum.

In Vibrational Dowsing, we are not asking questions. We are simply comparing the signature frequency of one subject with the signature frequency of another subject, looking for resonance. If the same frequency is in both subjects, the pendulum will give a clockwise spin.

We find the signature frequency through attenuating the string length of the pendulum until we get a response. You can try this on yourself right now. Coil the string of your pendulum into your palm and, suspending the pendulum over your other hand, slowly feed the string length out until you get a clockwise response. This first response is usually our polarity field. You can test this by turning your hand over and seeing if you get a reversed spin, which confirms you are in the polarity band.

Continue to feed out the string length until you get the next layer of response. Flip your hand over to test this for polarity. If the pendulum continues to rotate clockwise, you now have your signature string length for yourself. Everyone has a unique string length, so it's important in Vibrational Dowsing to find each individual signature when you are dowsing others.

Now that you have your personal signature string length, you link and scan (by touching, pointing or mental focus) other objects and watch the response of this interaction upon your string length. We are NOT asking any questions of anyone. We are merely observing the effect of the addition of the second object to your field. If the second object is beneficial to you, you will observe a clockwise spin. If the second object is detrimental to you, you will see either a weakening of clockwise spin, or a reversal of spin into counter-clockwise direction.

That's the simplicity of Vibrational Dowsing...not asking anyone anything but simply observing the effect of objects when it's linked to your test field. There is a much deeper Teaching and opportunity here for spiritual development and discernment, which is the REAL intent of Vibrational Dowsing.

But let's go back to Mental Dowsing: the Egyptians say "You Americans are so funny. You dowse and ask questions of who ever shows up. It's like picking up the telephone and talking to whoever is there without really knowing with whom or what you are interacting." Herein lies the danger of Mental Dowsing. Who are we actually talking to, and how do we know they are who they say they are?

When we dowse a conversation with someone or something on the pendulum, we are RESONATING with that phenomena. Dowsing is a two-way street! We aren't invisibly peering into the unknown. The unknown is perceiving us perceiving them, which can be glorious, uplifting and insightful, or which can often be the case, dangerous, unhealthy and downright deadly.

There are many detrimental Beings 'Out There' who dress up in white robes with gold trim and tell us all kinds of wondrous things, some of which are true, but much of which is riddled with detrimental 'lines' that inflate our egos and induce subconscious fears and encourage us, on the unconscious level, to surrender our sovereignty to these Beings, whom we think, because they're not incarnate, know more than we do and are more aware than we are and have our best interest at heart. I know from direct experience that there are many detrimental Beings who are quite happy to have our attention and think nothing of deceiving us to meet their needs and goals.

In Earth Healing, there are compounding detrimental forces with which we resonate as we scan the fields. These can be very harmful to humans and have caused sickness and even death. I am not exaggerating. Marilyn Gang, founder and president of the Toronto Dowzers' Society wrote a very interesting article on this phenomenon, entitled DEAD DOWSERS. She'll snail mail you a copy if you contact her at 416 322 0363 or mgang@dowsers.info. And we'll see a direct manifestation of these compounding detrimental forces when we look at our 'patient' of the day. Since I still do quite a bit of Mental Dowsing in my work, (although I draw upon Vibrational Dowsing as much as possible to keep my accuracy up and for the spiritual growth), I use a specific geometry with specific Spiritual and Divine Beings.

We have now some very interesting tools from Dr. Karim in Egypt and also here in the US, Dimensional Design, that helps us quickly and easily identify the Plane of Nature from which a particular Being hails. These tools contain the actual frequencies of the Planes of Nature, etc., so they are a function of Vibrational Dowsing.

For example, the other evening, I thought I was speaking with my Guardian Angel, but something felt funny, so I double-checked with the Planes of Nature Dial, which indicated the Being with whom I was conversing was from the Astral Plane. Angels are from the Spiritual Plane, so this meant I had an impostor! I had drifted off my Center!

I quickly made corrections and could immediately feel the shift and was able to confirm, using my Planes of Nature Dial, connection with my real Guardian Angel from the Spiritual Plane. This is the hidden spiritual gift of learning to discern the differences in the Beings with whom we work.

When we use Vibrational Dowsing, we have the opportunity to directly perceive frequencies ourselves, rather than getting answers from others who do the perception for us. If we always ask for their help, we'll never learn how to do this for ourselves! It is the dharmic task of humans at this time to develop a greater awareness of our Selves, the Invisible Realms and the consequences of our thoughts and actions.

It is crucial that we know with whom we are interacting and we can do that by identifying the frequencies within these Beings and determining what Plane of Nature they are from and with which they resonate. Initially I have used tools from Egypt and Chicago (Dimensional Design) to monitor these qualities while giving my physical body the conscious experience of resonance with these specific frequencies. Over time, as I build up my spiritual discernment muscles and organs of extra-sensory perception, I can begin to perceive on my own, without the tools, what a particular Being or frequency feels like and what Plane of Nature they're resonating with. This is how I was able to perceive that detrimental Being posing as my Guardian Angel.

If I had been limited to Mental Dowsing, all I could do is ask, "Are you who you say you are?" and they, of course, would insist they are the real deal. You see how folks have gotten into trouble along this path.

So that's the difference between Mental Dowsing and Vibrational Dowsing. Vibrational Dowsing not only yields more accuracy, it is an opportunity to develop spiritual perception and discernment, both of which are currently evolving qualities in Human destiny.

Now I'll show you how to use the Source of Toxicity Dial to quickly locate and identify and correct detrimental influences. This Dial has holograms imprinted into each wedge on the Dial and also into the Black dot. Each wedge has its own hologram that resonates with its descriptor (EMF, MW, etc.) when it is lined up with the Black dot. When you line a wedge up with the Black dot and scan your subject, the Dial will resonate with those same frequencies if they are in your subject. This will be indicated by a clockwise spin of your pendulum.

(Demonstration with aerial map of Unity Center).

You can correct these detrimental energies by placing the Antidote Tube through the center of the Dial, set at the specific target toxicity and direct the open end of the Tube onto your subject. Try monitoring the correctional shift using your perception. Always doublecheck your work afterwards, using the Dial.

I thank you and Spirit for this opportunity to share with you. I hope I have served you well!
